Habit-forming Medicines.

Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now of known composition. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Drs. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

LITTLEFIELD AND GOMPERS.

Mr. Littlefield's statement that the labor fight against him led by Samuel Gompers really helped him is declared to be literally true by some of his friends in Washington.

A high official of the Treasury Department, who is acquainted with the situation in the Second Maine district, even goes so far as to say that Gompers is responsible for Littlefield's election. Early in the campaign, this gentlemen says, there was a determined effort to prevent Littlefield's return to Congress.

This was led by the proprietors of the Poland Springs, who run a strictly prohibition hotel and who are the richest and most influential people in the district. It was backed by the Lewiston Journal, formerly owned by the late Congressman Dingley. Their opposition was on local issues entirely and Littlefield's candidacy was in a bad way. Just at the psychological moment, however, Gompers entered the field with his declaration of war. The Poland Springs people resented this intrusion of organized labor into the politics of the district, and they and the Lewiston Journal forthwith turned and gave hearty support to the republican candidate. But for their influences, according to the Treasury officials, Littlefield would probably have been defeated, owing to local conditions. If Gompers had not shown up, that influence would not have been exerted in his favor.

Jas. S. Sherman of New York, chairman of the republican congressional committee, says that he shares Mr. Littlefield's opinion that the advent of Mr. Gompers into the Maine campaign helped Mr. Littlefield rather than hurt him.

"When you analyze the returns," said Mr. Sherman, "you cannot come to any other conclusion. Mr. Littlefield's majority was cut down largely, it is true, but he ran ahead of his ticket, and that is a good deal more than some of the other congressional candidates did.

"If Speaker Cannon depends on Gompers to knock him out, he can remain in public life as long as he likes." This was the comment of United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, of Illinois, who was one of President Roosevelt's callers at Oyster Bay yesterday.

Mr. Hopkins admitted that the republicans of Illinois may lose two congressional districts in Chicago and one in the southern portion of the State, all of which he maintained are nominally democratic districts. Otherwise, he said, the outlook in the State was decidedly good. "We will, of course, organize the House in the Sixtieth Congress," he concluded. "We may have a smaller majority, but a smaller majority is really better for the work of Congress. As for the effect of Mr. Gompers' campaign, it will help rather than hurt us."

The Ohio convention of the Junior Order of American Mechanics, in session at Canton, Ohio, yesterday, ordered a letter forwarded to Speaker Cannon expressing the hostility of Ohio members of that order to his alleged opposition to the immigration bill before the last Congress. The communication will declare that unless Speaker Cannon renounces his alleged position on the subject he will be opposed by the Ohio order in any future political aspirations he may have, notably his presidential candidacy.

Alleged Eloper in Washington.

C. T. Coombs, of Meyersdale, Pa., ex-member of the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Pittsburg, alleged to have deserted a wife and five children and eloped with Miss Lida B. Nycum, a young church worker in that city, is at the Hotel Raleigh in Washington. He is remorseful and repentant.

Mr. Coombs has been in Washington since Tuesday afternoon, having come from Mount Vernon, N. Y., where Rev. E. H. Leisure and a prominent member of his church, N. K. McKalip, overtook Mr. Coombs and Miss Nycum and persuaded the young woman to return to her parents.

Mr. Coombs emphatically denies the assertion that he had eloped or that he had deserted his wife and children for Miss Nycum. But he added:

"It would be ridiculous for me to deny that the young woman and I were together. We were. It is a case of love, simply, but there was no elopement and no desertion. I have communicated with my wife daily since we left Pittsburg, about August 10, and I have provided for my family, having sent them at least $150 since that time.

"I met Miss Nycum in Huntingdon, Pa., on August 17. I had previously resigned from the ministry. She consented to become my secretary and bookkeeper, I having signed a contract with a New York firm as salesman. She wrote her parents in Everett the same day, saying that she was going to New York with me. They made no serious objection, and sent her trunk to her. It arrived in New York the day after our arrival. There she assisted me in my work, but I don't mind saying it was a case of love."

Coombs apparently entertains no fear of an estrangement with Mrs. Coombs. When a reconciliation with his wife was suggested, he said there would be no reconciliation because there is no estrangement, and added: "Mrs. Coombs and I will return to Meyersdale together."

Brutal Husband Assaults Wife.

The expenditure of six cents for household necessities without her husband's approval may cost Mrs. William Leonard, of Paterson, N. J., her life. She is now in a hospital in a precarious condition, and her husband is under arrest charged with beating her with an axe handle. According to the story told to the police by Leonard's 10-year-old son, and partially substantiated by neighbors who overheard the quarrel, Leonard became furious Monday when he missed six cents which he had left in the house. When Mrs. Leonard admitted that she had spent the money, the boy says his father attacked her as she stood with a month-old baby in her arms. He felled her with the axe handle and kicked her as she lay on the floor. Neighbors called the police and the injured woman was removed to a hospital. Leonard was arrested as he was entering a neighboring saloon.

Sad Accident to Young Woman.

While Miss Ella Breding, a music teacher, of Chicago, was putting on her hat, a hatpin slipped and destroyed the sight of her left eye. Physicians of the Wesley Hospital, to which she was taken, say there is danger the inflammation will spread and render her totally blind. Miss Breding who lives in North Roseland, Ill., was visiting a sick friend when the accident occurred. As the music-teacher started to leave the sick-room she put on her hat. She was talking earnestly at the time, and as she started to insert a pin her hand slipped and the pin entered the left eye, piercing the center of the eyeball. With a laugh she declared the injury was slight, but at the hospital the doctors said the eye could not be saved. Although in deep sorrow because she believes she will no longer be able to teach music, Miss Breding has kept up her courage, because tears would render the inflammation worse.

Robbed of Diamonds.

Sol. Urback, a dealer in diamonds, with offices at 47 and 49 Maiden Lane, New York, was the victim of a robbery in a Pullman car Monday night, which, according to his statement, nets a loss to him of $40,000 in unset diamonds, besides a handsome watch and fob. Mr. Urback, who was on a business trip, says he retired to his sleeper about the time the train left Philadelphia, and placed his valuables, according to custom, under his pillow. When he awoke in Baltimore the sleeper was on a sidetrack and the diamonds were gone from under his pillow. He reported his loss to the railroad police officials, but they have no clew to the thieves, who had evidently camped on Mr. Urback's trail and planned the robbery carefully.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT. 13, 1906.

ONE OF THE Washington newspapers contained today a long account of what was regarded as a practical joke about a month ago. According to the paper, an expert anthropologist from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington visited the Carlyle House recently, and before he left became convinced that the plaster of paris cast recently placed in the cellar of that historic building is the head of a human being, probably that of General Braddock or Colonel Carlyle. Many people in this world prefer to believe in the marvelous. The stone under the coronation chair in Westminister Abbey, London, is still regarded by the wonder-loving as that upon which Jacob's head rested while enjoying the ecstatic vision of the heavenly ladder. The "find" at the Braddock House was exposed last month by the authorities of this city, although but few persons who had previouly examined the alleged human head believed it to be anything else than what it really is. It is hard to understand how the expert referred to above was led to credit the ridiculous story which has been circulated concerning what was nothing more nor less than a practical joke and so understood at the time. There are a number of genuine relics of past years in Alexandria, but the suggestion that Captain John Smith built a fort on the ground now occupied by the Carlyle House, or that either General Braddock or John Carlyle was buried where the plaster cast was found, are mere fables, and not even cunningly devised ones. Gen. Braddock was buried near Great Meadows, Pa., after the battle of Fort Duquesne, and Col. Carlyle is buried in one of the Alexandria cemeteries.

THE Louisiana Confederate veterans will erect a monument to Captain Henry Wirz, commandant of Andersonville prison, the only man executed after the war. The Army of Tennessee Camp No. 2, of New Orleans, has adopted resolutions declaring that it deems it a duty of the United Confederate Veterans and of the South to vindicate the memory of Captain Wirz. The resolutions declare that he was a gallant and devoted soldier, "who gave up his life rather than save it by yielding to the desire of his murderers to have him falsely implicate Jefferson Davis and other Confederate leaders in the distressing and unavoidable occurrences forced upon the Confederacy in its keeping of federal prisoners." Captain Wirz, it will be remembered, was executed after the war on the charge that he cruelly and inhumanly treated the federal prisoners in the Andersonville prison. The charges were false. Captain Wirz was in no wise to blame for the high death rate at that prison. General Grant and the federal authorities in Washington were notified by the Confederate government that the latter had no medicine and little food to give prisoners, and they were entreated to exchange the prisoners, but General Grant refused this, holding that every Confederate soldier who was exchanged would re-enter the army, while the federal government could get another man for every one killed or imprisoned. General Grant and the federal authorities were therefore responsible for the "horrors of Andersonville."

FROM THE report of the publicity committee of the American Library Association recently in session at Narragansett Pier, it appears that the indiscriminate distribution of government publications has become an infliction against which the smaller libraries of the country have been impelled to cry out In the last ten years no less than 800,000 volumes have been returned to Washington by libraries as being undesirable. Still year after year the government printing bill grow larger and the deluge of unusable books increases in volume. If these unsolicited favors should be sent back by all individuals and institutions which receive them and members of Congress should be crowded out of their seats by the mass of literature returned without thanks, they might be brought to a realization of the waste involved.

AMONG THE changes adopted by the Dominion Parliamentary Committee on election laws in its revision of existing statutes is the provision that an elector who neglects to discharge his duties as a citizen by voting shall be deprived of the franchise for six years unless he shows on oath good reason for his failure to go to the polls. Another change which is expected to have far reaching effects is the prohibition of carriage hiring on election day. Any one demanding or receiving payment for the use of a horse or team on election day is made liable to a fine of $100. It will be interesting to note the working out of these reforms, which seem a little drastic on this side of the border.

A revolutionary plot against the government was discovered in Salvador, and the republic was declared in a state of siege.

From Washington.

Washington, Sept. 13

Developments in Cuba are being watched for with much interest by the officials of the State, War and Navy Departments. Confirmation of the press dispatches of this morning was the only word received by the State Department today from Mr. Sleeper, the U. S. charge in Havana, but an attack on Havana by the insurgent at any time would not be surprising to this government. It was learned today that American war ships were not sent to Cuban ports until the State Department received what it regarded as excellent information that the Cuban authorities were not in a position wholly to protect United States citizens and property throughout the island. The presence of these vessels at Cuban ports will, it is hoped, have a salutary effect upon the insurrectionists. The War Department proposes to be prepared for any emergency. At present there are over 5,000 troops of the regular army encamped at Chickamauga, Georgia, which could be embarked for Cuba from Tampa, Florida, within thirty-six hours.

In his last annual report as an officer on the active list of the United States Army, Lieutenant-General Henry C. Corbin, who will retire for age on Saturday, makes an urgent appeal for the removal of the legislative prohibition against the selling of light wines and beer at the soldiers' post exchange. He also recommends the organization in all the states of regiments of troops to constitute a "Regular Reserve," to be used by the federal government in time of war or other emergency. In the opinion of Gederal Corbin disease in army camps in the past, which has cost the country so many thousands of lives, has been due to the lack of obedience of the men to the prescribed rules and regulations. General Corbin recommends the retention of the present number of general officers in the army and expresses the belief that the grade of lieutenant-general, which expires under the law with the retirement in 1909 of General MacArthur, should be made a permanent institution.

One million dollars worth of work on big guns and accessories for the navy will probably be divided between the Midvale Steel Company, of Philadelphia, and the Bethlehem Steel Company, of South Bethlehem, Pa, the bids of the two companies opened yesterday, being so nearly identical that the Navy Department cannot understand the matter. Where there is any difference in price, there is a variation in the time of delivery, so that things even up. The Midvale Company offers to construct four 12-inch guns for $69,000 each, and the Bethlehem Company at $69,600 each. On the main bid for all of the 12-inch guns, 16 in number, the bids are identical, $62,000 each. The bids for the other guns are similar. The bids for gun forgings range from 30 cents per pound for the 12-inch guns to 39 cents per pound for the smaller guns, and for these forgings also the bids of the Midvale and Bethlehem concerns are almost alike.

The Czar became especially interested recently in a khaki uniform worn by an American army representative at St Petersburg, now the Russian military authorities are considering the adoption of khaki uniforms for the entire army. This is the story, at least, as told to the State Department by American consuls in Russia.

In the hearing being given the cotton carrying railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Sam Brown, of Albany, Georgia, this morning sent the auditors into a roar and the commissioners into a grin by his tree-handed criticism of the New York Cotton Exchange. He said: "Any man who is fool enough to put his money into the cotton exchange of New York ought to be skinned"

She is unconscious.

Senators Joseph B. Foraker and Chas. F. Dick dominated the second and last day's sessions of the Ohio republican State convention at Dayton yesterday. They overwhelmed the insurgent republicans led by Congressman Theodore E. Burton, of Cleveland; Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, and former Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, in every specific fight made, not only in committee meetings, but on the floor of the convention.

The Interstate Commerce Commission was asked yesterday to modity that provision of the law requiring railways to give 30 days' notice by publication before changing rates. The railways maintain that the export rate for cotton is governed by the English markets, and declare that so great and rapid are the fluctuations in rates by reason of the abundance or scarcity of bottoms for ocean carrying that it would be an utter impossibility to obey the law and maintain an export through rate.

One of the most brilliant weddings ever witnessed in Shepherdstown occurred last night, when Capt. Randolph Carter Berkeley, of the United States Marine Corps, and Miss Carrie Phillips, only daughter of Pay Inspector and Mrs. J. S. Phillips, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E A. Marshall, in Trinity Episcopal Church. The best man was Capt. A. E. One of the most interesting features of the musical display at the Jamestown Exposition will be the installation of the most complete pipe organ that has ever been built in the United States. The instrument, which weighs ten tons, is of mammoth propositions and will occupy a space 16 feet in depth and fill the entire space from wall to wall across the back of the stage in the auditorium. The great pipes will extend from the floor to the ceiling, a distance of thirty-feet.

While doing her act in the side show at Robinson's circus in Suffolk yesterday afternoon Leah Aimee, the woman lion tamer, was almost killed by one of the lions. She entered the cage in sight of an audience of several hundred persons and was going through her turn when one of the largest lions jumped on her and succeeded in biting her on the arm and back and tearing the flesh in several places about the body. She would have been killed had not a cavalryman connected with the circus pulled his pistol and shot the beast, severely wounding him. The actress was taken to the circus hospital, where surgical aid was rendered.

The Georgia, the first battleship ever built on the Maine coast, will sail from the yard at Bath, Me., Sunday to the Charlestown navy yard, where she will be commissioned.

MR. BRYAN IN THE SOUTH.

Mr. Bryan's arrival in Louisville yesterday provoked a great outburst of acclaim. His reception at night in the armory was attended by 12,000 persons.

Henry Watterson, a former opponent, made a ringing speech, in which he declared himself in entire accord with the visitor's views.

Senator Carmack, in his address, asserted his belief that the principle of bimetallism right, is though the question had been removed from the field of discussion, and declared that government ownership of railroads should be regarded only as a last resort.

Mr. Bryan read a statement explaining his Madison Square Garden speech on government ownership of railroads, saying he expressed merely his personal opinions and had no thought of forcing them on the party. He said:

"In my speech at the New York reception I made some remarks concerning the government ownership of railways, and thought that I had expressed myself so clearly that my position could not be misconstrued, even by those who desired to misconstrue it. The New York speech was prepared in advance. It was not only written, but it was carefully revised. It stated exactly what I wanted to state, and I have nothing to withdraw or modify in the statement therein made. What I say tonight is rather in the nature of an elaboration of the ideas therein presented.

"After quoting from the democratic platform of 1900 that 'a private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable,' and after laying it down as a principle that public ownership should begin where competition ends, and that the people should have the benefit of any monopoly that might be found necessary, I stated that I had reached the conclusion 'that railroads partake so much of the nature of a monopoly that they must ultimately become public property and be managed by public officials in the interest of the whole country.' And I added; 'I do not know that the country is ready for this legislation. I do not know that the majority of my own party favors it, but I believe that an increasing number of the members of all parties see in public ownership a sure remedy for discrimination between persons and places and for the extortionate rates for the carrying of freight and passengers.

"I then proceeded to outline a system of public ownership whereby the advantages of public ownership might be secured to the people without the dangers of centralization. This system contemplates Federal ownership of the trunk lines only and the ownership of the local lines by the several States. I further expressed it as my opinion that the railroads themselves were responsible for the growth of the sentiment in favor of public ownership, and said that, while I believed that the rate bill recently enacted should be given a fair trial, we might expect to see the railroads still more active in politics unless our experience with them differed from the experience we had had with franchise holding corporations.

"This statement of my views has been assailed by some as an attempt to force these views upon the democratic party, and by some as an announcement of an intention to insist upon the incorporation of these views in the next democratic national platform.

"Let me answer these two charges. I have tried to make it clear that I expressed my own opinion, and I have never sought to compel the acceptance of my opinion by anyone else. Reserving the right to do my own thinking I respect the right of every one else to do his thinking.

"If you ask me whether the question of government ownership will be an issue in the campaign of 1908, I answer, I do not know. If you ask me whether it ought to be in the platform, I reply, I cannot tell until I know what the democratic voters think upon the subject. If the democrats believe that the next platform should contain a plank in favor of government ownership, then that plank ought to be included. If the democrats think it ought not to contain such a plank, then such a plank ought not to be included. It rests with the party to make the platform, and individuals can only advise.

"I have spoken for myself and for myself only, and I did not know how the suggestion would be received. I am now prepared to confess to you that it has been received more favorably than I expected. There is this, however, that I do expect; namely, that those democrats who oppose government ownership will accompany their declaration against it with the assertion that they will favor government ownership whenever they are convinced that the country must choose between government ownership of the roads and railroad ownership of the government.

"I still advocate strict regulation and all rejoice if experience proves that that regulation can be made effective. I will go further than that, and say that I believe we can have more efficient regulation under the democratic administration, with a democratic Senate and House, than we are likely to have under a republican administration, with a republican Senate and House; and yet I would not be honest if I did not frankly admit that observation has convinced me that no such efficient regulation is possible that government ownership can be undertaken on the plan outlined with less danger to the country than is involved in private ownership as we have had it or as we are likely to have it.

"Among the reasons that led me to believe that we must in the end look to government ownership for relief I shall mention two or three. First and foremost is the corrupting influence of the railroads in politics. When the President, following the democratic platform, insisted upon regulation he was met with the opposition of the railroads, and every point gained in favor of the people was gained after a strenuous fight.

"I have no idea that the railroads are going to permit regulation without a struggle, and I fear that their influence will be strong enough to delay, if it does not entirely defeat, remedial legislation.

"Another reason which has led me to favor government ownership is the fact that the people are annually plundered of an enormous sum by extortionate rates; that places are discriminated against and individuals driven out of business by favoritism shown by the railroads. You say that all these things can be corrected without interference with private ownership. I shall be glad if experience proves that they can be corrected, but I no longer hope for it."

Zenaide Konoplianikova, the girl who assassinated General Min at Peterhof, is reported to have been executed.

Today's Telegraphic News

GRAVE CONDITIONS IN CUBA.

Havana, Sept. 13.—Havana today faces the gravest menace in its history. Insurgents in overwhelming numbers are advancing on the capital from the south and west, and it is thought that an attack will be made within a few hours. That President Palma's government is doomed is the general opinion.

The arrival of the United States cruiser Denver in Havana harbor has hastened the crisis. Instead of assisting Palma, it is believed it will be his undoing. The cruiser may be able to offer Palma a place of refuge, however, and this is one of the purposes in dispatching it here.

Intervention by the United States is now regarded as the only logical outcome of the struggle in the island. That this is close at hand is indicated by the arrival of the Denver and the dispatch of the Marietta to Cienfuegos.

This has forced the hand of the insurgents.

To be in this position they must capture Havana before the United States government acts. That is why the insurgent armies are rushing toward the capital. Sixteen miles to the south of Havana General Loynas de Castillo and Colonel Asbert are encamped with 8,000 insurgents. In the west Pino Guerra, by brilliant tactics, has left Colonel Avalos, commanding the only government force of fighting strength, stranded near Consolacion del Sur, and is now marching on the capital.

The railroad has been blown up between Consolecion and Havana, and the bridges destroyed. Avalos cannot get back to the capital, while miles to the eastward Guerra with his entire army is hurrying toward Havana to make a junction with Asbert and Castillo, leaving his enemy stranded.

With General Castillo's army is Alfredo Zayas, leader of the liberal party. It is the plan of the insurgents on capturing Havana to sit up a provisional government with Zayas as president.

They will then demand that if the United States intervenes, it shall deal with Zayas rather than the dethroned Palma.

Cienfuegos is threatened with capture by the insurgents. Orestes Ferrera has sent word to the city to remove the women and children, as he intends to attack the place.

There is a special reason for this. Cienfuegos is the port to which the Marietta has been ordered. When the warship steams into the harbor, the insurgents wish to be in control of the city. They believe this will help their case materially.

The sending of United States warships to Cuba at this time is regarded as significant. September 15 is the date set by the insurgents before which the government must accept their terms or meet them in open warfare. It was the plan of the insurgent leaders to take no active steps to capture Havana until after this date. The ordering of United States ships here forced a change of plan They fear American forces may be used to support Palma. Therefore, they determined to capture the city before sufficient warships can arrive to prevent this.

To Stamp Out Terrorism.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—All Europe, with the exception of Switzerland and England, has united in a movement to stamp out the terrorists, and in the future advocates of the bomb and revolver method of warring against constituted government, will be hunted dawn as common enemies of law and order everywhere.

The Russian government has taken the lead in the movement and has succeeded in securing pledges from every government, except the two mentioned, for full police co-operation on their part in stamping out the secret terrorist organizations.

It is a notorious fact that many of the assassinations of officials in Russia were engineered in other capitals, and there are terrorist organizations in nearly every large city.

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 13—Threats that if a Jewish massacre is attempted here they will kill all the foreign consuls in Warsaw, as a means of forcing intervention in Russian affairs by the powers, are being made the scene of a pogrom as horrible as the recent butchery at Siedlce.

Fears that a massacre is being planned in Warsaw are growing every hour.

Odessa, Russia, Sept. 13.—Practically all the inhabitants of the little Jewish village of Cooping in the district of Kamenetz have been murdered by peasants who attacked the village and burned the place to the ground. No definite idea is given in reports as to the exact number of persons killed, but few of the villagers escaped. Many persons were burned to death in their homes and others were killed in trying to escape. The bodies of many of those who fell were brutally maltreated.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—After expressing loyalty to the cause of revolution to which she gave up her life with her dying breath, Zenaide Konopliantkovo, the girl assassin of General Min, was executed for her crime today: "Long live the social revolution for land and liberty." This was her exclamation after the rope had been placed around her neck, and just before she was swung into eternity. The girl never quivered as she faced death. She refused a priest and mounted the scaffold with firm steps. On a photograph which she sent her sister, she inscribed her last message: "My life was all I had to give."

The Humberts Released.

Paris, Sept. 13. — Frederick and Therese Humbert, whose gigantic swindling of Paris banker by means of a false will purportion to have made Madame Humbert the heir of an imaginary Ambrican millionaire, Robert Henry Crawford, created a sensation a few years ago, were released from prison this afternoon in accordance with the decision of the council of ministers to grant the their liberty under the conditional liberation law. Madame Humbert is ill, and will probably have to undergo an operation. The Humberts sentenced August 22, 1902, to serve five years each in prison.

Real Estate Trust Co. Reopened.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—The receiver today reopened the Real Estate Trust Company to receive deposits.

In these days of rush and hurry courtesy is often forgotten. In the mad, pell mell rush of our little life things are done to offend that we rather remained undone. A hastily eaten meal and its resultant headache may cause us social or financial loss. The wise man or woman is the one who relieves little ills of this sort by a little dose of Kodal For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Robbed of $2,800.

New York, Sept. 13.—Salvatore Cori, an Italian, came to this country a few weeks ago bringing with him a consignment of cheese made in Italy. With the proceeds of the sale of his stock he intended returning to his native land and settling for the remainder of his life. He sold the cheese and with the proceeds, amounting to about $2,800, tucked away in his pocket, set about to see the sights. He met Francisco Barabaldi in West Hoboken. The Italian has a police record, and the pair soon became fast friends. Eventually Barabaldi prevailed upon Cori to put all the money each had into one package. After doing this Barbaldi gave the package to the man from Italy, and told him to watch it closely, as New York was infested with thieves. The man from West Hoboken then disappeared and with him went Cori's money, for when he opened the package given him by his new found friend, he found it only contained tissue paper. Cori reported his loss to the police and last night detectives captured Barbaldis, who was recognized by his victim, and committed for examination.

Strange Matrimonial Features.

Hanover, Mass., Sept. 13.—The career of James A. Garland, the millionaire clubman of New York and Boston, who died here early this morning, contains some strange matrimonial features. Fresh from Harvard, heir to $10,000,000, and an adept in polite accomplishments, "Jimmy" Garland, in 1893, married Miss Marie Tudor, descended from the royal house of Tudor. In 1900 an open rupture occurred, the pair separating. Mrs. Garland went to live with her children at Lincoln. For two years they were apart, when one day society awoke to find Garland and his wife were reconciled, and were again occupying their beautiful home at Hamilton. The reconciliation was not lasting, for a year later Mrs. Garland again left her husband and brought suit for divorce. Great bitterness was shown by both parties at the trial, and in the end Mrs. Garland was granted her decree and $15,000 a year, as well as the custody of her children. A year later, in August, 1904, they were re-married at Newport.

Rockefeller Will Ride on a Pass.

New York, Sept. 13.—John D. Rockefeller wins again. A new phase of the recently enacted railroad rate bill, which just cropped out here today is that of all corporations, doing business over the railroads of the United States the Standard Oil Company is the only one which will be entitled to accept free transportation. The loophole through which the Standard Oil escapes the anti-pass legislation is found in the amendment tacked on to the rate bill by Senator Lodge, which puts Standard Oil in the list of common carriers. By the terms of the rate bill common carriers are allowed to give and accept free transportation among themselves. While the Standard Oil can of course give no transportation owing to the fact that its only carriers, its only pipe lines it can accept and be greatly benefitted by transportation issued to its army of employes and officials. As President of the Standard Oil, Mr. Rockefeller will ride on a pass.

Young Woman Assaulted by a Negro.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—A posse of enraged residents of Beth Ayres, a village of the North Bend section, is beating up the country side today intent upon the capture of a negro who early this morning committed an atrocious assault upon Miss Jennie Ramson, daughter of a contractor, and one of the prettiest young women in that community. Miss Ramson is in a critical condition. From the few utterances she has made, it was learned she was awakened early by the sound of someone walking about her bedroom. The girl attempted to leave her bed, but the negro sprang toward her and struck her over the head. The blow stunned the girl and the negro tied her hands and feet with a rope and gagged her with a knotted towel. In this state she was discovered by her father whose appearance frightened off the negro.

After the Pullman Company.

New York, Sept. 13.—Hoping to compel the directors of the Pullman Company to distribute millions of dollars of its earnings, which they say is being withheld from them, stockholders of the company are banding together to force the issue with the present management in Chicago. The Pullman company's surplus is $27,000,000 and Edward W. Senck, who is leading the movement to make the company disgorge its millions, demands to know why the company is accumulating a surplus which is now about forty per cent of the capital stock. Senck believes that the millions in the surplus fund may be diverted to uses which will benefit officials of the company, but not the stockholders who purchased them at low figures. The accumulation of such a gigantic surplus is unwarranted and the directors must give an explanation.

William Jennings Bryan.

Cincinnati, Sept. 13.—William J. Bryan arrived here at noon from Louisville. He was met at the station by a delegation of prominent democrats and escorted to the Grand Hotel. One of the first men to greet the Nebraskan, was Mayor Tom L Johnson, of Cleveland. When Bryan had an opportunity to refresh himself after the journey he repaired to the convention room, where a public reception was held.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 13.—Arrangements were completed today by the State and county democratic committees for W. J. Bryan's reception in Raleigh next Monday. He will speak from the west of the Capitol building, beginning his address at 11:30.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 13.—The stock market was full of buying orders at the opening on which many sharp advances were made in the first few minutes. In the latter the market showed pool manipulation and the market buying for special purposes caused mixed movements and the market for the greater part of the first hour, was irregular.

Mystery Surrounding Arrest.

Buffalo, N. Y, Sept. 13.—Surrounding the arrest of Dr. W. W. Turver, of No. 101 Niagara street, is a mystery which is baffling the Buffalo police. Dr. Turver conducts a private maternity hospital and is under indictment for illegitimate pratice. A few days ago the body of Miss E. M. Knight was shipped to Hoboken, N. J. It is believed she died as the result of a criminal operation in Dr. Turver's hospital. There are rumors that the body of a woman with the head missing was also shipped out of Buffalo in a trunk. All sorts of startling reports are in circulation. Dr. Turver's office windows and furniture were smashed with an axe yesterday morning immediately after which Dr. Turver and his office assistant, Miss Mabel Gebbes, disappeared. Both were found by the police today. They refused to make statements to the police, and were taken before the district attorney, who is now examining them. Two nurses of the hospital are also held at police headquarters on open charges. An undertaker who shipped the bodies is also being closely questioned by the police.

Killed in a Wreck.

Anniston, Ala., Sept. 12.—Confusion of orders last night caused a head-on collision, eight miles below Attalla, in which three men were killed. The collision occurred on the Alabama Central branch of the Louisville & Nashville road. The local freight met a work train on a curve with a terrible crash. The crew of the local freight was killed, while the work train crew jumped and were uninjured.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The proceedings in the Court of Appeals yesterday at Staunton were as follows:

Smiley against the Provident Life and Trust Company, from the Circuit Court of Augusta county, removed to Richmond.

Davis vs. Roller and Bowman's executors vs. Roller, from the Circuit Court of Rockingham county, argued and submitted.

George E. Sipe, receiver, vs. John W. Taylor, from the Circuit Court of Rockingham county, argued in part and continued until today.

The Court has granted an appeal in the chancery cause of E. A. Kirk vs. J. W. Lockwood, jr., administrator of W. O. Harlow, deceased, and bond has been fixed at $300. This case comes from the Circuit Court of Orange county and involved a partnership contract.

The next cases to be called are:

Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company vs. Lee, Sherrard vs. Western State Hospital and Breedon vs. Peale.

Indicted for Conspiracy.

The famous Hartje divorce case came up before the grand jury in Pittsburg, Pa, yesterday, and August Hartje, John L. Welshons, a relative, and Clifford Hooe, a colored servant, were indicted of conspiracy and subornation of perjury.

Clifford Hooe, who was a servant in the Hartje family when the couple separated, testified before a master in divorce that he had been criminally intimate with Mrs. Hartje. His testimony in the case brought the suit before the court for trial. Hooe immediately left the State. The Perkins Detective Agency chased him through several States and arrested him at East Liverpool, O. Perkins secured a confession from the negro to the effect that he had committed perjury in testifying against Mrs. Hartje. He said that Welshons had given him several hundred dollars, and said that Mr. Hartje would give him more if he would leave the State and remain away.

Attorneys for Augustus Hartje allege to have still another confession from Hooe, in which he claims his first statement during the divorce hearing was correct, and that the opposition offered him money and intimidated him into making the confession after his arrest at East Liverpool.

For this section thunder showers tonight and Friday; cooler Friday; fresh southwest to west winds.

Death Due to Accident.

That death was due to an unaccountable accident was the verdict returned in Washington, yesterday afternoon by a coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances of the death of Hugh Murphy, the engineer on the Southern Railway, who died at the Emergency Hospital at 9 o'clock Tuesday night as a result of injuries received an hour and a half before, when his engine was erailed at Sixth street and Maryland avenue southwest.

The exact cause of the wreck has not been determined, but railroad men are of the opinion, judging from the appearance of the rails, that the drag of the heavy train coupled with the strain of the curve, caused the track to spread, thus releasing the front wheels from the track. The train was running about 15 miles an hour.

The remains of Mr. Murphy were brought to his home, No. 918 King street, last night, and his funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

The Weather.

The humid weather of the past few days has been very oppressive—as much so as in midsummer—and the discomfort occasioned by it has been the subject of much comment. Generally the weather in about this time of the year is comparatively comfortable, especially after dark. The temperature, however, during the past week has been oppressive during most of the night, or until after midnight. Last night conditions were humid and oppressive and continued so until an early hour this morning, when there was a perceptible fall in the temperature. Today the weather has been warm with threatening conditions at times. The Weather Bureau predicts cooler weather, but the mercury at 3 o'clock this afternoon registered 87°. The newspapers are recalling the weather of September, 1881, when sultry conditions prevailed during the entire month. The atmosphere was hazy nearly every day, the sun assuming a yellowish hue.

Alarms of Fire.

The alarm of fire about six o'clock yesterday evening was caused by smoke issuing from the Messrs. Risheills' planing mill, corner of Wilkes and Royal streets. The fire department was soon on the spot, but its services were not needed, as the fire was soon subdued. A hot box of one of the machines was the cause of the fire. On January 13, 1903, there was a disastrous fire in this mill which necessitated the practical rebuilding of the structure.

The alarm sounded about 10:30 o'clock this morning was caused by the discovery of a fire in a small frame house on north Royal street, occupied by colored people. The flames were soon extinguished and the damage was slight.

"Why She Was Sacrificed."

LeRoy and Meyers' original production of "Why She Was Sacrificed" will be seen at the Opera House on Saturday next. This drama is one of the strongest dramatic plays ever written and is enacted by a company of well known artists. "Why She Was Sacrificed" tells a story of heart interest. Love and hate, laughter and tears are woven around a most interesting plot. So real to life are the characters portrayed and so realistic the characters and scenes that one witnessing the performance finds it hard to realize that it is not part of their every day life. High class vaudeville will be introduced durthe performance and all can depend upon seeing an exceptionally good drama.

Held for the Grand Jury.

The case of Annie Green, colored, charged with the murder of Jackson Boney, colored, of Washington, came up before Judge Thompson, in Alexandria county yesterday, and the woman was held to await the action of the grand jury, and remanded to jail. Boney, with a bullet wound in his head, was found dead on the night of August 23, in a buggy on the Long bridge. Annie Green had been Boney's companion in the afternoon, and, when arrested, declared that they had been held up by a highwayman.

The Alleged Assailant.

There was no excitement in Alexandria county last night notwithstanding the many reports in circulation during the day that "Cap" Turner, colored, suspected of assaulting on Sunday night Miss Mabel Risley and Mr. Forrest Gooding near Luna Park was to be summarily dealt with. It is denied in all quarters that any such procedure was contemplated. All the suspects that have been arrested in connection with the attacks at Four Mile Run have been released except Turner.

The Electric Lights.

There was trouble with the electric lights last night. The lamps went out on both circuits early in the night and the city was in darkness for about two hours, after which the southern circuit was lighted. Mr. L. S. Kirby, the city electrician says, the shaft in the armature became hot which caused all the difficulty. He worked on it until 2 o'clock this morning, endeavoring to remedy the difficulty. He hopes to have the line in working order by tonight.

The Hansborough Case.

The trial of the suit of Mary C. Hansborough, administrator of the estate of her husband, George Hansborough, against the Southern Railway Company, is still in progress in the Circuit Court. The hearing was concluded yesterday and arguments were begun today. The case will probably go to the jury this evening.

School Permits.

The clerk of the City School Board this morning commenced the issuing of permits to colored children to attend the public schools and during the day issued 338 permits—155 to boys and 183 to girls. On the corresponding day last year 355 were issued—158 to boys and 197 to girls. Permits will be issued to colored children again tomorrow.

Personal.

Congressman J. F. Rixey, who spent the summer at Colorado Springs, has returned to his home at Brandy, Culpeper county.

Mrs. Kate U. Taylor, who has been spending several weeks with her niece, Mrs. F. M. Burch, in Clarke county, has returned to her home in this city.

Miss Elizabeth Burgess, of Hyattsville, Md., is visiting Miss Sadye Sullivan, on Prince street.

Mrs. Stewart Jamieson has returned after spending the summer at various places in the State.

Engineer James Curtin is ill at his home in this city.

Police Court.

[Justice Edgar Padgett presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Lee Levell, colored, arrested by Officer Garvey charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was dismissed.

William Levell, arrested by the same officer on a similar charge, was fined $5.

A white man, arrested by Officers Garvey and Sherwood charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Four men, arrested by Officers Nicholson, Knight and Lyles charged with vagrancy were dismissed.

Henry Simpson, arrested by Chief Goods and Officer Jones as a suspicious character, was fined $10.

Alice Harris, colored, arrested by Officers Bell and Henderson charged with assaulting Annie Harris, was fined $5.

John Twyman, colored, arrested by Officers Garvey and Beach charged with lunacy, was committed to jail for ten days.

American Agricultural Chemical.

In Boston the contest for control of American Agricultural Chemical Co. has been quietly going on for some time. There have been two sets of proxies in the field, one in the interest of the Boston people and the other interest of the Standard Oil people. Proxies for use by the Boston interests have been solicited in the name of Directors Robert S Bradley, Samuel Carr of Boston, and Cord Meyer, of New York. Proxies solicited by the Standard Oil interests have been in the name of President John F. Gibbons, Vice President Albert French, and Treasurer Thomas A. Doe. The Bradley-Carr-Meyer proxies have been received in sufficient amount to permit of the statement that the Boston interests have wrested control from the Standard Oil people. After the election, September 18th, Peter P. Bradley, of Boston, will undoubtedly succeed the Standard Oil incumbent, J. F. Gibbon, as president When the fertilizer trust was formed the Standard Oil people controlled the Liebig Mfg. Co., and they agreed to place the Liebig Co. in the combination under an agreement that they could assume the management of the new company. For some time the Boston interests have been opposed to the lack of aggressiveness in the New York management, and they have openly criticized some of the operating policies. The report for the year ended June 30, 1906, showed net earnings of 4.09 per cent. for the common stock, but likewise showed assets sufficient to allow $100 per share for the preferred stock, and $20 per share for the common stock. It is now claimed that the true earning capacity has been concealed, and that actual earnings the past year have been in excess of 6 per cent. for the common stock. The change in control means a more aggressive management and the placing of the common stock within sight of dividends. —[Wall Street Journal.

Labor Officials on Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 13—The trial of Cornelius H. Shea and sixteen other officials of the labor organization of Chicago, who were connected with the teamsters' strike of 1905, began today. The cases have been pending on the criminal court docket since June, 1905 The prediction is made that the trials will consume a year in time, and cost $200,000. Shea and other labor leaders are charged with conspiracy to injure the business of Montgomery, Ward & Co., during the teamsters strike last year.

Torture By Savages.

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the Kidneys," says W. M. Sherman of Cushing, Me. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me." Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blood disorders and Malaria; and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' druggist. Price 50c.

The evening trips of the steamer Jamestown, which have been so popular this summer, will be brought to a close tomorrow, when this palatial new boat will make her final moonlight trip of the season. The last trip will be made at the accustomed hours, the steamer leaving the Prince street wharf at 7:30 p. m., returning at 10:30. The orchestra will be aboard, and there will be dancing as usual, the cafe will be open &c. The Jamestown will not stop here tonight, as the boat has been chartered by private parties in Washington for a sail down the river.

A freight car jumped the track in the Southern Railway yard in this city last night and was considerably damaged.

EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA

On the 27th day of August, 1906, on reading the petition of WALTER LEE O'NEIL, bankrupt, for discharge, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 14TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D., 1906, before said court, at Alexandria, in said district, at twelve o'clock noon; and that notice thereof be published in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable Edmund Waddill, jr., judge of the said court, and the seal thereof at Alexandria, in said district, on the 27th day of August 1906.

The Fields of Peace.

It was the belief of the ancient Egyptians, according to a recent writer, that everything, material and immaterial, had its immortal double. Out of this grew the idea of a life in the future state of perfect happiness in the "fields of peace." For a long time the common people regarded these "fields of peace" not as a celestial place, but as situated in the fertile and well watered regions of the Nile delta in the northwest of Egypt, where the blessed ever breathed the cool north wind. Here they lived an ideal form of their life upon earth. They plowed their fields and grew the grain which supplied them with the "bread which grew not stale and beer that never became sour." Here was situated the duplicate of their earthly towns or villages.

Portuguese Bullfights.

At Portuguese bullfights not only are the points of the bulls' horns sawed off, but the stumps that remain are carefully padded. The horses also are ridden with consummate skill, and every precaution is taken to prevent the bull touching them. Banderillas are used by the men on foot and on horseback and are planted in the neck of the bull, which irritates the bull, but cannot be described as torture. Just as much skill is shown as in a Spanish bullfight, and there may be just as beautiful a display of costumes, but there is no killing either of the bull or of the horses.

A Woman's Revenge.

It is perfectly incomprehensible how man can go on wearing the clothes he does—how he can balance on his head a huge black jam pot with a ledge to it, incase his limbs in long, tight sacks of dingy hue and wear round his manly throat something resembling a shining metal band. Every new fashion for man that comes out appears to me uglier than the last.—Spinster in M. A. P.

A Lofty Death.

Asama is a volcano in Japan. A young man of that country grew despondent the other day and threw himself into the crater, leaving this letter: "Suffering a feeling of despair impels me to throw myself into the crater of vehement Asama, thus winning a splendid death and ascending the mountain's smoke to a lofty life above the sky."

Unslaked Lime.

Unslaked lime is useful in preventing rust because of its extraordinary capacity for absorbing moisture. Some careful workmen who take pains that their tools shall always be in the best condition make a practice of keeping a piece of lime in their tool boxes to absorb any moisture which might otherwise cause rust.

A Safety Match.

"Papa, what is a safety match?" Mr. Henpecked (looking carefully about to see if his wife is within hearing distance)—A safety match, son, is when a baldheaded man marries an armless woman.

Poor Fellow.

Mrs. Browne—He certainly does live high. It seems to me his whole thought is of his victuals. Mrs. Malaprop—That's the truth. He's jest what you might call a reg'lar ipecac.

It is with feelings as with water—the shallow murmur, but the deeps are dumb.—Raleigh.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Pleasan little pills that do not gripe or sicken Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

A Scientific Wonder.

The cures that stand to its credit make Buckleu's Arnica Salve a scientific wonder. It cured E. E. Mulford, lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, Waynesboro, Pa., of a distressing case of Piles. It heals the worst Burns, Sores, Boils, Ulcers, Cuts, Wounds Chilblains and Salt Rheum. Only 25c at E S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranes that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros. 56 Warren Street, New York.
